Download Cisco Packet Tracer 6.2

including: cell tower, central office server, web browser and web server, Javascript and CSS support, packet tracer. If the IP address requested by the subscriber's DNS server cannot be determined, then the IP address used by the client to request the resource will be determined from information about the location of the computer on the Internet. Thus, all Internet resources are available for users to connect to them from the provider's local network (with the exception of resources with the http protocol). In addition, all users of the provider's local network can connect to the Internet through the provider's proxy server.
